

An aerial photograph of a school campus. In the center is a large green baseball field with a brown dirt infield. To the left of the field is a large, light-colored building, likely a gymnasium or school hall. To the right of the field is a smaller building and a paved area with some trees. The entire campus is surrounded by a residential neighborhood with houses and streets. The text "Escuela Prof. Eugenio Cruz Almánzar" is overlaid on the right side of the image.
